

ABSTRACT

5 A wound dressing and method for treating a wound with a wound dressing are provided. In particular, the wound dressing contains a fibrous component, typically made from silk fibers or wool fibers for attracting and capturing proteases from a wound site that may interfere with the healing of the wound, and a growth factor.

10016819-121401
T0422-6489T001